Teaching methodology

Business Management is all about your thinking and strategizing. I always bring this concept into all my lessons. I teach all my students how to apply theories and to be able to analyse and evaluate the business situation. It is these skills that get high grades. I develop confidence in my students as well as independent learning skills. In addition, I develop business skills not only to get the top grade but for my students future careers.

Mr White is a phenomenal teacher not only because he makes lessons fun and enjoyable, but also because he goes through lessons thoroughly. He does a fantastic job of making lessons understandable and easy, even when it is about a hard topic.

He is not only teaching a student business management, he also teaches students how to present themselves and business skills such as how to talk confidently in a presentation. If a student does not understand a topic, he will help them out and explain it in a different way, which most teachers cannot do.

He is a teacher that can work with any learning style whether its visual, auditory, kinaesthetic or even writing, he is able to explain the topic in a way a student can understand. He is my favourite teacher because he is able to make anyone understand what he is teaching.

My Favourite Teacher is Mr. White because he thoroughly explains everything and helps me grasp the concepts quickly. The classes are incredibly engaging, and he has us review what we have learned using presentations and diagrams to make sure we understand the material, which we do!

Everyone in my grade likes Mr. White's business lessons because he is patient and doesn't think that any questions are pointless, and he makes the students feel more at ease in the classroom.

Mr White is an enthusiastic teacher. In all the sessions that he runs for Business, he motivates his students to give their best and achieve well. He is really good when it comes to explaining business concepts and theories. Mr White always gives a broad explanation of the current and past trends of the market so that his student understand better the concept of the lesson He's a great teacher because he is always fair with his students which isn't always the case with other teachers. His lessons are clear and well prepared.
