Bachelor of Arts – 2i, University of Humberside (Geography, History and English Literature) 1999-2002

PGCE – Distinction, University of Hull (Geography and History) 2002-2003

Experience:

- 30 years teaching experience
- Currently Assistant Headteacher at an Outstanding 11-18 school in SE England
- Previous roles include Director of Sixth Form (where A level results were in the top 10% nationally), Head of Humanities, Head of Geography, Head of Upper School, DSL
- Experienced examiner and Team Leader of examiners for AQA GCSE Geography
- Experienced moderator for AQA Geography NEA (coursework)
- Have worked for, and produced resources for BBC Bitesize, GCSEPod, CGP Books and other publishers.

I enjoy helping students achieve their potential and I tailor the sessions to the needs of the student. Lessons will be usually be run on zoom and will involve content sharing, teaching, activities, feedback, modelling of high quality answers and a summary of the session. If you wish to boost your geographical knowledge, enhance your skill set or gain some useful exam tips and techniques, I can help with all of those.

This is to certify that the recipient of these digital badges has successfully marked or moderated an AQA qualification in 2025.

AQA examiners and moderators are key members of AQA's associate workforce, typically consisting of qualified educators. Their expertise, often drawn from teaching, is matched by their deep commitment to students and the education sector as a whole.

Each examiner or moderator has completed regulatory and rigorous quality training, ensuring they meet the exacting standards required by AQA. They bring the same level of care and precision to this role as they do to their everyday teaching, often balancing this significant responsibility alongside a full-time role in education. By participating in the examining and moderating process, these educators contribute to maintaining the integrity of the assessment system, supporting students across the country, and refining their own professional craft.

Testimonials:

“When I started lessons with Helen, Geography was the worst of my 3 A level subjects. I ended up achieving an A* and received the Geography Prize from my College.”

“Helen clearly knows the A level content inside out and she adjusts how things are explained if required. She knows the exam requirements and has excellent individualised resources to target the weaker areas of my daughter’s knowledge. My daughter suffers from severe anxiety but Helen was patient and calm when working with her and ended up achieving a grade A, which was the highest of her 3 subjects”.

“My daughter and her friend had GCSE revision sessions with Helen after achieving very poorly in their Year 11 Mock exams. Both girls improved significantly under Helen’s tuition and achieved a grade 7 and a grade 9 in their final exams.”
